Studio Artist

My practice is interdisciplinary incorporating digital and traditional drawing, printmaking, collage, video, performance, social practice and installation. I utilize both digital and traditional modes of image making including screen printing, collagraph, photo etch, Illustrator, photoshop, Procreate and Dall-E. I am a conceptual artist, interested in memory, transformation and pressure. I am a founding member of We Da Pepo art collective. A collective of transnational artists engaged in questions of border politics, hybridity, immigration and the American experience.

Curatorial Practice

I began curating at the Main Gallery in Redwood City in 2011 and since then I have also curated in SFAI's Diego Rivera Gallery, Swell Gallery, University of Costa Rica Galería de la Facultad de Arte and the San Francisco Mint. I co-curate independent exhibitions with other Bay Area artist/curators in particular Victoria Heilweil, Hanna Regev and Rea Lynn de Guzman.

I was the curator for works on paper at The Peninsula Museum of Art (PMA) from 2013-2015. With PMA I curated for a variety of media including collage, video, sculpture, painting, photography, and printmaking. Responsibilities include studio visits, exhibition committee meetings, writing curatorial notes and artist bios, designing exhibitions, coordinating with preparators, visiting curators, artists and vendors, choosing and installing art works as well as lighting and wall label design. PMA is a small organization, as such it presented me with opportunities to be directly involved in the creation of curatorial documents, design of floor plans, manufacturing and design of supporting items for installation and exhibition.

Collaborations/ Social Practice/ Mural Projects

- | | |
|--------------|--|
| 2023 | "What is your sTILE?", activation and mural at Google Headquarters in Mountain View CA. |
| 2023 | Response to Yolanda Lopez, Art Activation at the San Jose Museum of Art |
| 2021-Present | The Frozen Trojan horse, social practice activation. Has traveled to Mission Dolores, Sanchez Adobe, Mission Santa Clara, Mission San Jose and is scheduled to continue to travel south visiting all the missions of California. It has also been activated at Stanford University, San Jose State University, San Jose Museum of Art (SJMA), San Francisco Art Institute (SFAI), at the Movimiento de Arte y Cultura Latino Americana (MACLA), The School of Visual Philosophy and along side the Rascuache Liberation Front. |
| Since 2014 | I have composed, directed, coordinated, and participated in public mural projects. |
| 2019-Present | Founding member of WE DA PEPO Art collective. |
| 2017-2018 | Artist in residence at Ruth's Table/Bethany Center. I coordinated and participated in the creation of a temporary mural titled "Better with Age". This mural has now been repurposed and moved to an indoor location inside Bethany Center. |
| 2015-2020 | I developed and taught a program through Stanford University titled "Over the Border and Through the Hood". We explore art as an immersive setting for second language acquisition. In the course of a 10-week quarter we study latines mural painters, their influence on muralists in this country, the similarities and differences between mural painting on either side of the boarder and we create a mural in the City of Redwood City. We have created 8 murals in and around Hoover Park. |
| 2014-2015 | Through Root Division I was commissioned to create 5 murals for the Benioff Children's Hospital these were produced in collaboration with middle school children from the San Francisco Unified School District and artists from Creativity Explored. |
